

NMS® is a full-service integration company. Our expertise is in designing and implementing systems that integrate document images, data processing information and workflow automation into united information platforms that enable real business value.

Document Management & Imaging

Document Management enables massive amounts of documents to be digitally organized, secured and retained. It provides user friendly filing schemes organized by customers, suppliers, members, contracts, students, employees, etc. NMS specializes in joining document records with transaction records in your data processing system. This enables "one-click" lookup of documents from within your data processing environment.

Workflow & Process Optimization

A core competency of NMS is workflow. Document information solutions provide benefits in the form of risk aversion, administrative consolidation and cost reduction. Workflow intensifies the impact that document information solutions can have on an organization. NMS Imaging develops and delivers a web based, commercial-off-the-shelf workflow product called eFlow™. It is used by thousands of people everyday in commercial and government settings to accelerate how business is done.

Hosted Document Management

As an alternative to the capital intensive nature of document management solutions, outsource hosting offers a lower cost alternative to both smaller and larger organizations that cannot justify the manpower or budget resources to maintain in-house systems. These solutions apply and configure document management software components to deliver feature-rich document imaging over the web. These solutions are integrated into the look and feel of your intranet or extranet, and reward clients with a "zero resource impact" implementation process.

Document Scanning & Conversion

NMS Imaging partners with the industry leaders such as Eastman Kodak Company, ReadSoft and Kofax for our document scanning solutions. Using these products we create solutions that manage high volume scanning, document recognition and data extraction for automated indexing and document storage. NMS Imaging has developed eFlow™ Capture, a software product that manages error free batch document imports between the scan capture software and your document management.

Consulting & Professional Services

NMS Imaging provides a complete portfolio of consulting engagement products to enable clients with all aspects of functional design, technical design, customer integration, deployment and training. We apply CDIA+ (Certified Document Imaging Architect) industry best practices to assure the highest quality guidance and coordination of technology and services to meeting business requirements.
